

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

instances short biographical notices are added ; so that this Catalogue might not inappropriately be entitled, A Biographical Dictionary of Authors of the Society of Friends, with a chronological Register of their publications, &c.

The work has been brought to its present state of completeness by my having access to the two libraries belonging to the Society under the care of the Meeting for Sufferings in London, leave having been granted in the first place to copy their manuscript catalogues. The library of the British Museum has also been made use of, as well as that of Sion College, London Wall.

The late THOMAS THOMPSON, of Liverpool, furnished me with some information ; and I have received considerable help through FRANCIS FRY, of Bristol, who kindly lent me many books and tracts. The number of books which have passed through my hands in the way of business, and from many other sources, have also tended to make this work more perfect ; and, in bringing it to a conclusion, I cannot help expressing my thanks to WILSON ARMISTEAD, of Leeds, JAMES BOORNE, of Reading, and ARTHUR J. NAISH, of Birmingham ; but, above all, to my friend JOHN THOMPSON, of Hitchin, who has not only supplied me with much valuable information from his extensive collection of Friends' books, but also given me kind assistance during the progress through the press, and without whose help I believe the desired end would not have been accomplished.

JOSEPH SMITH.

London, 31st of Tenth Month, 1867.

ARRANGEMENT, &c.

First, the Authors' Surnames are carried on Alphabetically, and the places of their Birth or Residence as far as known.

Then the Titles of the Books, and the number of editions printed, as near as can be ascertained, in chronological order; then the size and date and number of sheets; and, lastly, the time and place of the death of deceased Authors, if known.

Some are entered twice, for easier reference, as some that have two Authors under both their names; and some not only under the Authors' names, but also under the title of King, Parliament, Sufferings, and Testimonies concerning Friends deceased, because they fall properly under those heads.

And such as have no Authors' names may be found under Anonymous, or Nameless, Friends, Quakers, &c., &c.

Periodical Publications may be found under that head.

At the end of those Pieces by Authors whose works have been collected, the page is given where they may be found; where that is omitted, it must be understood that such Tract or Piece is not in their collected works.

EXPLANATION OF SIGNS USED IN THIS CATALOGUE.

ABELL, Richard, of Cork, Ireland.

— Deceit made manifest, or the hypocrit hireling and false profet found out in y^e height of profession; his garment stript of, and his spirit tried, and being compared, is found to be one with the World's teachers, who agree with all the false prophets in the dayes of old, also some of y^e rest of that fellowship (so called) are tried, and their fruits declared; so that you may clearly see, that the Spirit is one by which they are all guided, and the way of worship which they lead their people into, to be that which is an abomination to the Lord. Also some stumbling blocks removed, and the way of Truth declared, and all people summoned to come in to it. Set forth for the simples sake chiefly among the Baptists, but is to goe through all the World. By one of the least of the Lord's Servants, named in the flesh, Richard Abell. 4to. Printed in the yeare, 1659

This pamphlet consists of queries on religious subjects and letters requesting scriptural answers to those queries, addressed to Wm. Fox, a Baptist Teacher, and Chaplain to one of the Regiments of Oliver Cromwell's Army, to which the Author belonged at the time of his conviction of Friends' Principles; they were written at the forts of Bantry and Crookhaven in the County of Cork; and as W. Fox did not answer them, R. Abell then addressed this book to the Baptists, and included the queries, &c. before-mentioned.

Richard Abell is supposed to have died about 1690, as there is a record in very old-fashioned writing as follows, "Richd Abell, of County of Clare, died 22nd of 7th mo. 1690, and was buried in Limerick.

MES, William, (of Frampton Cotterell, Gloucestershire, 7 miles from Bristol, on the borders of Somersetshire,) was convinced of the Truth in the year 1655, through the ministry of Edward Burrough and Francis Howgil, at Cork, in Ireland, and afterwards became a valuable Minister, it does not however seem desirable to say much concerning him here, as particulars of his life are given in "Sewel's History" and "Tuke's Biographical Notices, &c.," but as he, as well as his writings are frequently confounded with another Author of the same name, who was born in 1576, and died in 1633, and therefore lived about the same time, (but who, I believe, was not related to him, nor connected with Friends,) it seems necessary in order to distinguish them to add, that this latter writer, is described by some Bibliographers as "an eminent Divine and famous for his casuistical and controversial writings."

An Epitome of this Treatise, published in 1858.

See WM. GAUNTLEY, of Bakewell.

The Reader will see by the following extract from Wm. Sewel's Preface to his "History of Friends," 1st edition, 1722, that William Ames was not the Author of this book, but as it is placed under his name in Whiting's Catalogue, and will most likely be so sought for in this, it is entered here also.—

"At Amsterdam, in Holland, many years ago, a Learned Man published a Book called, "Lucerna Super Candelabrum," wherein he very eminently defended the Doctrine of the Inward Light; and this Book was published in Dutch, and afterwards also in English with the Title of "The Light upon the Candlestick;" and since the name of William Ames, a Zealous Preacher among the Quakers, was placed upon the Title, many have believed him to be the Author of that Book, because his Doctrine of the Divine and Inward Light, was so effectually asserted therein. That he approved the Contents of the Book I know; but I know also that it never proceeded from his pen. And many years afterwards it was published under the name of one Peter Balling, as the Author of it, tho' there were those who father'd it upon Adam Boreel, because it is found printed in Latin among his Scripta Posthuma. And this opinion is not altogether improbable; for among his Works are found also some other writings, that contain several Positions asserted by the Quakers: Besides, he and some other of the Collegians, and among these also Dr. Galenus Abrahamson, were so effectually convinced of the Doctrine preached by William Ames, when he first came to Amsterdam, that they approved of it; tho' afterwards from a Misapprehension they opposed it. Now if we presuppose that Adam Boreel was the Author of the said Latin Book, Peter Balling may have been the Translator thereof into Dutch; for that it was originally written in Latin, seems to me very probable.

But however it be, it appears plainly, that the Author would not publicly be known, for the Title seemed designedly composed, so that the Readers should believe W. Ames to be the Author of it, viz. The Light on the Candlestick, serving for Illustration of the Principal Matters in the Book called, "The Mysteries of the Kingdom of God, &c.," against Galenus Abrahamson and his Assenters, treated of and written by W. Ames. And this Name stood in Capital Letters underneath, in such a manner as the Name of an Author is usually placed upon a Title; tho' the Publisher meant no more, but that W. Ames was the Author of the Book called, "The Mysteries of the Kingdom of God." And there was no Printer's Name added to it, but only, "Printed for the Author, 1662.

Now tho' I can't tell certainly who was the Author, yet I have thought fit, since the said Book is not easily to be got in Latin, to insert it in the Appendix of this History; from whence it may appear, as well as from the writings of some others, that there have been such who either commended the Quakers, or defended their Doctrine, tho' they themselves never could resolve publicly to joyn with them."

In the "Memoirs of Dr. Joseph Priestley,—with observations on his Writings by Thomas Cooper of Pennsylvania,—published in 1806; there is inserted at page 30, the following note, from which it appears that this "Essay on Liberty and Necessity," was written by THOMAS LETCHWORTH, but I have some reasons to doubt its accuracy (unless there are two works on the subject) as JOHN WHITEHEAD, of Wandsworth, states on the title page of his "Materialism philosophically examined," that he is the Author of AN ESSAY ON LIBERTY AND NECESSITY. Probably both these Friends had a hand in the work, as Thomas Letchworth must have been about the time this was written residing at Wandsworth.

"QUAKERS.—That instances of liberality of sentiment with respect to religious opinion are frequently to be found among the Quakers there can be no doubt, but this is certainly no part of their character as a Sect. THOMAS LETCHWORTH one of the most acute and ingenious of their preachers at Wandsworth, near London, who from the writings of Dr. Priestley had become a firm convert to his Unitarian opinions, informed me that the expression of those opinions would be attended with certain expulsion from the Society. Very lately Hannah Barnard a female Public Friend who went from America to England, was prohibited from preaching by the Society, on account of her Unitarian doctrines.

Thomas Letchworth has been dead many years. In the short contest on the question of Liberty and Necessity which was occasioned by Toplady's life of Jerome Zanchius, he wrote a good defence of the doctrine of Necessity, signed Philaretus in answer to one from a disciple of Fletcher's of Madeley, under the signature of Philaleutheros. There is a trifling account of him containing no information, by one William Matthews.—T. COOPER."

This Treatise on Discipline, was written by HENRY PORTSMOUTH,* of Basingstoke, and edited by WILLIAM MATTHEWS,* of Bath, who added the Postscript, and in his own copy of the pamphlet, he has written on the blank page between the ESSAY and the POSTSCRIPT, the following, viz;

ADVERTISEMENT.

"The Editor of this Treatise having been favour'd with the perusal, previous to printing, of the foregoing Essay, prevailed on his Friend, the very respectable Writer, to permit him to make the following addition in his Name.—This request on one Hand, and the ready consent on the other, were the more natural, on account of the entire agreement of the Parties in opinion on those Topics, which occupy both the Treatise and the Postscript."

And at the conclusion of the work, this note,

"N.B. Candour induces the Author of the foregoing Postscript to say, that the late JOSEPH PHIPPS, soon after the first publication, sent out two pamphlets in reply to it, and the Essay. They most likely continue on sale at the Publishers in George Yard, London; but how far he has really answered and refuted the arguments before him, those who chuse to examine, will determine for themselves."

* Both these Friends were disunited from the Society. M.S. Note.

- Early Christian Instruction, in the form of a Dialogue between a Mother and a Child. Written at the desire of the Society of Friends. London: Printed and sold by William Phillips, George-yard, Lombard-street. ... 12mo. 1807. 1

This Essay was prepared by the Meeting for Sufferings at the desire of the Yearly Meeting; the following minute, as well as the minutes of the Meeting for Sufferings respecting it, are inserted in Luke Howard's "Yorkshireman," Vol. 5, page 89, &c., and the Essay itself is also reprinted in that work.

MINUTE OF THE YEARLY MEETING, 1806.

"On the subject of the early instruction of youth in the principles and doctrines of the Christian Religion, this meeting apprehends that, as a first step, a small work by way of question and answer, for the use of children at an early age, may be conducive of advantage both to parents and their offspring; and requests the Meeting for Sufferings to take the necessary care to prepare an Essay for the approbation of the Yearly Meeting."

N.B.—About this period, a Committee of the Meeting for Sufferings was appointed for correcting the mistaken opinions, and repelling the injurious aspersions of Friends and their Principles, which appeared frequently, chiefly in the Reviews and Magazines.

The following pieces (as well as some others under the Authors' names, see JOSEPH G. BEVAN, WILLIAM DILLWYN, &c.) were published or inserted in different periodical works.

In "The Gentleman's Magazine,"—"Some Remarks on it's review of Henry Tuke's Principles, &c." in which Review it is asserted, that the Religion of the Society is "pure Deism." (Signed, "Cryptonymus.") [JOSEPH G. BEVAN?] 1807.

In "The Eclectic Review," A Vindication of the mode of religious instruction adopted at Ackworth School, which had been censured in that work. 1807.

In "The Monthly Magazine," A Reply to some observations on the practice of Friends in remaining covered in places of worship. 1807.

In "The Monthly Repository of Theology and Literature," Answer to a Query respecting the conduct of the Society in the payment of certain Taxes. [Supposed by JOHN BEVANS, JUNR.] 1807.

— A Brief Apology for Quakerism, inscribed to the Edinburgh Reviewers. [By LUKE HOWARD.] London: Printed for the Author, and sold by Darton & Harrey, Gracechurch-street; Longman and Co., Paternoster Row; and J. Hatchard, Piccadilly. ... 12mo. 1

In some copies, the title is, "A Little Apology, &c." This publication was called for in the opinion of the Committee by a violent attack of the said Reviewers upon us, in their Review of Clarkson's Portraiture of Quakerism. Forkshireman, Vol. 5, page 95.

In "The Monthly Repository," a Reply to some Observations on the Inward Light of the Quakers. [Supposed by JOHN BEVANS, JUNR.] 1808.

- Letters of Paul and Amicus, originally published in the Christian Repository, a Weekly Paper. Wilmington, Delaware; 8vo. 1823
 Extract from a Review of this work.
 “Paul” is somewhat feeble on Baptism. But on every other point he defends.—And he goads on “Amicus” till he has confessed all the system of the Friends. It is the fullest disclosure which we have in the modern times of the Society; it is a full length portrait of the genuine Quakerism of the Old School. And if the Society adheres to Fox, and Penn and Barclay; if, in fact, the modern friends hold to the testimony of their ancient elders, they must acknowledge the doctrines of “Amicus,” as their orthodox doctrines. To blame these, would be to blame the inspirations of Fox and Penn; to condemn these, would be to condemn all the Friends of the First “Convincement.”

This work is intended as a Manual exemplifying the system of Religious Instruction adopted at Ackworth School, and since its publication has met with the approbation of Friends who are well known to be most practically acquainted with the subject.

The distinguishing features of this mode of Religious Instruction are, the voluntary interest which Young Persons show therein,—its systematic adoption of Scripture Authority only,—and its complete adaptation to the earliest as well as most advanced stages of this branch of instruction. It will be found that there is no Christian doctrine whatever to which the principles of the plan may not be applied at pleasure to any extent ; though in this little work the correspondence of the testimonies of the Old and New Testament, respecting the Divine Character and Offices of our Saviour, has been most prominently elucidated.

THE APPENDIX CONTAINS:—I. A Table of the Books and Authors of the Old and New Testaments, with Dates, &c. II. Historical Table of the principal Individuals mentioned in Scripture, with references to assist in reading the history of the kings of Judah and Israel, and, III. An Outline of Jewish History from the Captivity to the Destruction of the Temple by Titus.—From a Prospectus.

(supposed by WM. ALLEN), viz. :—

“The following letter and address were received by a Minister of the Society of Friends, who, although he has no knowledge of the author, thinks it right to give them publicity, and hopes that the excellent counsel contained in them will be received by his young friends in the same spirit as that in which it appears to have been written.”

- An Epistle to Friends in London. "Edinburgh, the 22nd of the 12th month, 1736."
London: Printed and sold at the Bible, in George-yard, Lombard Street Broadside. 1736.

"The Rebels one night broke into the house of Mr. Thomas Areskine, an eminent Brewer, and a Preacher among the People called Quakers, and one of my Acquaintance. He has since shew'd me the Drawers which they broke, and robb'd him of all the Money he had then in the House, with some Linen and other Things of value: Upon which great Injustice, the fair dealing Quaker makes his application to their Prince, assuring him, That Method he pursu'd would never prosper, or answer his Expectation; for, said he, our GEORGE takes only a Part of our Money, but Thou even verily takes all; and Thou may'st as well take my Life, as take away the Prop that supports it. Upon which Complaint the Highland Prince answered, that he (Mr. Areskine) was many years in Debt to the Revenue of his Father's Excise, and it was but the proper Dues to his Government."

Therefore I was moved by the Lord God of life to lay open their deceit by the Spirit of Truth, as it was made manifest in me from the Lord, that the simple might not be deceived by them, but might have the knowledge of the Truth, from that which is for ever, and shall not change nor fade away. - and George Whitehead, James Lancaster, and Thomas Simonds. ISHMAEL, and his MOTHER, cast out into the WILDERNESS, amongst the Wild Beasts of the same nature : or A Reply to a Book entituled, The Scriptures proved to be the word of God, put forth by one of Ishmael's children, who calls himself a Minister of the Gospel, and a Pastor of S. Austins and Savours Parish in Norwich ; but is clearly made manifest by the light of God in his Servants, to be a Scoffer, and an enemy to the Gospel, which the Saints of God are Ministers of, and Sufferers for, by such as hee is, who Ishmael-like, hath laid his folly open, and is discovered to the faithful, who are of Abraham, and of the seed of Promise. Also, a cleer distinction between the Ministers of Christ, who are of the seed of Abraham, and the Priests of this generation, who are of Ishmaels root ; who with the Truth are plainly made manifest, by the light of Christ in us, who for the testimony of God do suffer by the Sons of Hagar, and this generation of the Priests in Norwich : Given forth for no other end, but that the truth may be cleered from such as scoff and deny it. Given forth from the Spirit of the Lord in us that do suffer in Gaol of Norwich for the truth's sake, which is persecuted AND slandered by the Priests and Rulers of this City. Whose names in the flesh is, Christopher Atkinson, George Whitehead, James Lancaster, Thomas Simonds.

BARCLAY, Robert, of Ury, near Aberdeen, in Scotland, was the son of DAVID BARCLAY, and was born at Gordonstoun, in the Shire of Murray, in Scotland, the 23rd of the 10th month, (December) 1648.

- Truth cleared of Calumnies, wherein a Book intituled, A Dialogue betwixt a Quaker, and a stable Christian, (Printed at Aberdeen, and upon good ground judged to be writ by William Mitchell, a Preacher neer by it, or at least that he had the cheife hand in it) is examined, and the disingenuity of the Author, in his representing the Quakers is discovered. Here is also their case truly stated, cleared, demonstrated, and the objections of their opposers answered, according to truth, scripture, and right Reason. By ROBERT BARCLAY.

Perfection § 2. 4thly, viz., "Who have not arrived to everlasting life," instead of "Who have arrived, &c." Latin, "Qui adepti sunt." The same error is in "Truth Triumphant," folio edition, pa. 388, in the Danish edition of 1738, pa. 229, the French edition of 1702, pa. 276, and the German of 1740. The passage is right in the 5th, 7th London edition, 8th London, and in Baskerville's, the 9th, 10th, and 11th London, the 8th Dublin, the 9th Dublin, the 9th Philadelphia, of 1775, the Philadelphia of 1789, the New York of 1827, the Manchester of 1850. Harrison's Abridgment, both editions, William Allen's Friends' Library edition, and in "Truth Triumphant," the 3 vol. 8vo edition of 1718. The Latin editions, the German of 1684 and 1776. The Spanish of 1710, the 2nd Dutch of 1757, the French of 1797, and the Danish of 1848. An opportunity of examining the New England editions of 1728 and 1774, the Philadelphia of 1780, 1805, and 1855, the American edition of Truth Triumphant, and the First Dutch edition has not occurred.

Apologist], concerning the Quaker's principles, to Robert Barclay, with his answers thereunto: and Mr. Charles his considerations of the said answers. Copied out of Mr.
Charles his Papers, by his brother Mr. Robert Gordon, 1678."

The title as above is from a MS. discovered in the Library at Ury, and though a printed pamphlet has recently appeared with a somewhat similar title, as will be seen below, yet it seems from the following extract towards the end that it was not composed with any view to publication. Answer by R. B. to a long series of replies by way of rejoinder from his uncle:—"For as much as the author of the considerations [Questions] is now removed, and in regard to my near relation to him, and that likewise the most of all the things (if not all) here handled by him have been since largely treated of

THE HARP OF DAVID.

BY BERNARD BARTON.

O! for the harp that David swept,
 At whose divine, entrancing sound,
 The evil spirit distant kept,
 While holier visions hover'd round.
 O! for such harp in these our days,
 To speak a God's—a Saviour's praise.
 Christian, would'st thou such harp possess,
 May grace anoint thine eyes to see,
 And on thy mind this truth impress,
 The heart that instrument may be;
 For never harp or lyre revealed,
 Such music as the heart can yield.
 O! then with melody it seems
 To vibrate from each trembling string;
 Each kindling thought and feeling teems
 With songs as sweet as seraphs sing.
 And music, art could never frame,
 Is breathed to its Redeemer's name.

WOMAN'S FRAILTY.

The following unpublished verses, by Bernard Barton, the Quaker poet, are inscribed on a pane of glass at the Crown hotel, Woodbridge, in Suffolk:—

Though frail, alas! this tablet prove,
 As all may well allow;
 Yet still more frail is woman's love—
 More insecure her vow.

BARTON, Bernard,—continued.

For ever, till this crystal pane
In shiver'd fragments lie,
These lines may uneffaced remain,
And prompt a smile or sigh.

But write thy name, poor love-sick youth,
On Chloe's fickle heart,
Hear her repeat her vows of truth,
And for one hour depart —

I'll stake my life if thou return.
And o'er that tablet cast
A searching eye, thou'll not discern
One relic of the past.

Besides the works already enumerated, Bernard Barton contributed many pieces to the different Annuals, "The Times Telescope," and many other works. In the last-named publication for 1823, is a piece of his, entitled, "Ode to Time," and in that for 1824, besides a poem, entitled, "Flowers," there is a memoir of him.

He died the 19th of the 2nd mo., 1849, aged 65 years, and was buried in Friends' Burial Ground, at Woodbridge. In a work, "The Summer and Winter of the Soul, by the Rev. Erskine Neale," is an engraving of "The Grave of Bernard Barton."

Portraits of B. B. have been published at different times.

This paper is dated, “London, the 14th of the 1st Month, called March, 1702,” and signed on behalf of Friends, by BENJAMIN BEALING. There is a note added which says, “The substance of this paper was printed about 8 years since, and published in order to stop the irregular practices of this person, &c.”

Benjamin Bealing was twice married; Elizabeth was his first wife; she dying, he married Cordelia Cowdry, who died of consumption the 26th of 7th month, 1729, aged 52 years, and was buried on the 30th of the same month in Friends' burial-ground, Bunhill Fields. In his declining years his Friends recommended his removal into the country to some place remote from London, probably into Cornwall, where several of the Bealing family resided, or into Hampshire, where he had a small estate at Millbrooke. He died about the year 1739.

N.B.—The above four pamphlets are all Anonymous; a volume of the same bound together is now in my possession, and lettered on the back R. BELL'S TRACTS: and on the fly-leaf there is written the name of the former owner, "Rachel Trafford, 5th month 17th, 1767."

Who R. Bell is I know not; but I have reason to believe he was one called a Quaker, though he does not use what some persons term the plain language: his arguments and reasoning on doctrinal matters, however, appear sound and good. He probably did not wish the public in general to know his religious profession, on account of the prejudice then existing against the Society, from a misapprehension of their real principles; and perhaps thought that, issuing these tracts anonymously, and not in the style of the Society, they would carry more weight with others who might not consider them the production of a Quaker. There was a Robert Bell who was Clerk (I believe) of the Meeting for Sufferings about the period this author lived, whether he is the same as the writer of these tracts I have yet to learn; but I have not the least doubt, whoever the author was, that he was a Friend, and a right sound one too, and that he lived in London.

A Robert Bell, of the Parish of Christ Church, Spitalfields, London, died of consumption the 15th of the 4th month, 1776, aged 68 years, and was buried in Friends' Burial-ground, Bunhill Fields. Another Robert Bell, of Mile End Road, son of Robert and Margaret (deceased), died the 7th of 5th mo., 1780, and was buried in Bunhill Fields.—London Burial Registers.

Note.—Besides the foregoing writings of Anthony Benezet, he composed and circulated many detached pieces through the medium of almanacs and newspapers. I have endeavoured to make the list as complete as possible; but it must not be wondered at if something has not escaped me, many of the pieces being very small, and written by one whose pen was so frequently employed for the benefit of his fellowmen.

He died the 3rd of 5th month, 1784, aged 71 years.

*BENNIS, George Geary, was born in the City of Limerick, Ireland, in the year 1790, and early distinguished himself by publishing a small work, entitled,—

- The Principles of the one Faith, professed by All Christians.
Liverpool, Printed for Evans, Chegwin, and Hall, Castle-street. ... 8vo. 1816. 2
He first removed to England, and resided for some time at Liverpool, and afterward in London. He afterwards took up his residence at Paris, in France, when he ceased to belong to the Society of Friends, but always professed attachment to their Principles. At the time of the Revolution he peacefully retook the Royal Flag, for which he was knighted by the King. He published a great number of works in the French language, for which he received several honourable titles, and became well known for his extensive travels and researches in Southern Europe; and his extensive information and correct judgment on many points rendered him a sought companion in literary society and among scientific men. Most of his property was lost by the change in Government at the time of the last Revolution, soon after which he retired into private life. He was nearly burned to death by the great fire which destroyed the Government Bakeries during the Crimean War, and most of his valuable library was consumed at that time. Enough was left, however, to found a free library in his native city, to which he left over 10,000 volumes.

He died on the 1st of 1st month, 1866, and was interred at Paris. By his own wish, no tombstone marks the spot.

— An Answer to Frederick Gude. ... 1746.

This Answer to FREDERICK GUDE, a Preacher in Lauban, was occasioned by a work of his entitled, "Liebreiche Borstellung, &c. or His Charitable Exposition of BENJN. HOLME's 'Serious Call,' 1774." There is, however, some doubt whether it has ever been printed, but I find a notice respecting it in Pauli Ernesti Jablonski's "Institutiones Historiæ Christianæ." Editio secunda, Vol. 3, page 385, of which the following is an extract: "Fuit quoque inter eos BENJAMIN HOLME, qui in vindicanda Quakerorum doctrina singulari cura versatus, eam peculiari tractatu omnibus commendare voluit. Cujus cogitata cum GOTTLÖB FRIEDERICVS' GVDIVS sub examen vocasset, HOLMII causam egit JOSEPHVS BESSE, contra quem tamen GVDIVS sibi deesse noluit."

- * BRADFORD, William, was born in Leicester, about the year 1659. He was placed as an apprentice to learn the printing business with Andrew Soule in London. Whilst in this situation, he appears to have been convinced of Friends' principles and was admitted into membership among them. Shortly after he was of age he married Elizabeth Soule, a daughter of his late master, and then went over to America. This was in 1682 or 1683. A Certificate of Devonshire House Monthly Meeting, recommending William Bradford and Elizabeth his Wife, as members of the Society of Friends, was read in Philadelphia Monthly Meeting, held the 4th of the 11th month, 1685, and accepted. They were not however settled in Philadelphia, but in Oxford township; and belonged to Oxford Monthly Meeting. His press was probably at Burlington, or at Chester, or at Kensington.— Having received his printing materials from England, William Bradford was now ready to carry on business. The first work that he printed appears to have been "An Epistle of John Burnyeat's, in 1686." In the year 1687, he issued a Prospectus for publishing by subscription a folio Bible with notes, but not receiving sufficient encouragement the work was relinquished. In the year 1691, he joined with George Keith in his controversy with the Society, and in 1692 wished to be discharged from the engagement as Friends' Printer. He removed to New York with his press in 1693, and was appointed printer to the government. There he continued to reside until 5th month 23rd, 1752, when he suddenly deceased, aged 94 years.

He signed many books and papers during the Keithian Controversy.

*BUGG, Francis, of Mildenhall, in Suffolk. I believe joined the Society about the year 1659; he suffered imprisonment in Ely Gaol in the year 1663 (see Besse's Sufferings); he afterwards about the year 1680, turned an envious and contentious Apostate, as will be seen by the following list of his books, though it does not appear that he left the Society till about the year 1684. Answers were given to most (if not all) these books by Saml. Cater, Benjn. Coole, Ann Docwra (his aunt), Edmund Elys (a Minister of the Church of England), John Love, Jun., W. Penn, Henry Pickworth, Caleb Pusey, Robert Sandilands, John Vaughton, Geo. Whitehead, John Whiting, and others.

Note.—Francis Bugg had left the Society about two years when this book was written, and in it he makes the following solemn confession :—"The first Point under consideration, is, how I came to be a Member of their Society, &c. In the beginning they taught, That all Men were Inlightened, according to John 1. 9. and that this Light, wherewith Christ had Inlightened them, was sufficient, if obeyed, to lead to Salvation ; and that it was the Work of the Ministers of Christ, to turn the People's Minds from Darkness to Light, and from the Power of Satan to God : Affirming, That this Light was a sufficient Teacher, Leader and Guide to every Believer, without the help of outward Prescriptions, Forms, Orders and Decrees of Men : Upon these and the like Notions, I became persuaded to make Trial of their Doctrine, and when I came to see and observe their Practice, Conversations and Deportments in the Beginning, and what simplicity and plainness attended their Ministry, I was still more confirmed, that it was a Dispensation of the Love of God, sent as a Visitation to Mankind, and being thus persuaded, I was resolved to bear the Cross, and did utterly despise the Shame that attended them and their Message ; and was not behind any of my Equals, both in doing and Suffering for the Testimony thereof, as some amongst them can still bear me witness : And in this manner we went on for many years, and loved one another with Love unfeigned ; and doubtless God blessed our Meetings with the Comfortable Injoyment of his Presence, and gave us favour in the sight of Men, and not a word of Conformity was heard among us for many years together ; nor no Lording over each other's consciences ; but as every Man was persuaded by the Lord, so he was frequently exhorted to walk," &c.

On this confession, George Whitehead observes :—"From which solemn Confession thus made by F. Bugg, after he forsook our Communion and went to the Publick (as he saith) it follows naturally that he did not forsake us because of our Christian Principle or Profession of the Light or because of our Doctrine, Conversation, Communion, or Meetings, or any dislike had thereof—but because he deemed us guilty of Apostacy from our first Principles or Profession."—See *G. prefixed a brief account of the Institution, with the Rules and Regulations.

Philadelphia: Printed for the Society. 12mo. 1813. 117 pages.

Note.—The following is the “Brief account of the Origin of the Friends’ Library,” as prefixed to this book, viz. :—

“It appears that about the year 1740, our ancient Friend Thomas Chalkley, bequeathed his books to the Monthly Meeting of Philadelphia, to be added to the Doctrinal tracts and other religious Treatises then in possession of the Meeting; with a view to render the collection more extensively useful, by letting out the books to Friends and other sober persons, gratis.

“The books were about that time deposited in an apartment belonging to the public schools, under the care of Friends, and they remained in charge of the different Teachers, successively, until they were removed, in 1809, into the room appropriated for that purpose, in the new building in Mulberry Street.

“The small Collection above mentioned had been, however, considerably increased by a donation from Peter Collinson, of London, and by the legacies of our Friends Anthony Benezet and John Pemberton, together with a considerable number of books contributed by various other persons; and since the Library has been placed in its present repository, a bequest in money has been laid out in suitable works agreeably to the Will of our Friend James Pemberton.

“The Library now contains about 1,000 volumes (including a considerable number of scarce pamphlets bound up together), by which general information, and particularly religious instruction, is freely communicated to many who would otherwise, in a greater or lesser degree, stand in need of this ready means of solid improvement and rational relaxation.”—Then follows, “The Rules and Regulations for the government of the Library.”

CATON, William, was born in Lancashire, about the Year 1636, and at an early age became an inmate of the Fell family as Teacher and Writer, and after continuing there some time he quitted Swarthmore, and travelled in the Ministry through many parts of Great Britain; afterwards he went into Holland, where he married Annekin Dirricks, at Amsterdam, in the year 1662. It was through the means of his ministry and that of John Stubbs (who was travelling with him in Kent), that Samuel Fisher and Luke Howard were convinced. At Maidstone these Friends suffered cruel persecution, the particulars of which are related in the pamphlet I commence with, viz.,

He died in Holland, in the 10th month, 1665, aged about 29 or 30 years, and his Wife died soon after.

CATTON, Samuel, of Plaistow, near London, was born in the year 1788, in a small village called Eyke, near Woodbridge, in Suffolk. He was once a member of the Baptist persuasion; but, feeling uneasy about the doctrine of Predestination, and falling in with some Friends' books, he became convinced of their principles, and, after attending their meetings about 2 years, he quitted the Baptists and united himself with Friends, as may be seen in the following small publication, which also gives an account of his career in the Temperance cause and other philanthropic movements. "Father Catton," as he is often called, is also a zealous Friend of the Animal Creation. Would that thousands would follow in his steps.

CAYLEY, Cornelius, of Leeds, Clerk in the Princess Dowager of Wales' Treasury. This individual never was a member of the Society, but as he had some drawings towards Friends and made application to Leeds Meeting to be received into membership, he claims some notice here. His letter is printed in Samuel Fothergill's Memoirs, with S. F.'s—and the following is to be found in Comly's "Miscellany," vol. 9, page 182—192. 12mo. 1837.

Fruits of Divine Meditation at Sea, in the year 1699. 1699.

Works, page 349.

In the year 1706, Thomas Chalkley had printed a book called "A Small Broom." The following extract from his Journal, London edition, 1751, page 52, will explain the occasion of its being written :—"I also was concerned to visit the People about Egg Harbour and Cape-May, and had divers Meetings amongst them,—At our coming, some Backsliders and Apostates were displeased. One (in a very bitter Spirit) called us Cursed and cruel Devils. Another wrote against us. To him I sent an Answer, for which he scandalised me in one of his Almanacks, and publicly belied me in Print ; which Lies I swept away with a Small Broom, printed in this Year 1706, to which I never understood that he return'd any Answer, nor that he wrote against Friends afterwards, tho' he had made it his Practice before for several years."

This book it seems was unknown to John Whiting, who has no entry of T. C.'s name in his Catalogue ; and I have searched in vain to find a copy, or even any notice of it, further than already mentioned.

CLARIDGE, Richard, was the eldest Son of WILLIAM CLARIDGE, of Farmborough, in the County of Warwick, and of ISABEL, his wife, and was born there in the month of December, 1649. He was educated in Baliol College, Oxford; he subsequently supplied the Cure at Wardington; and in 1672, he was ordained Priest, in the King's Chapel at Westminster. In 1673, he was inducted to the Rectory of Peopleton, in Worcestershire, where he continued Rector 19 years, during which time he wrote and published the following books, viz.—

- A Defence of the Present Government under King William and Queen Mary. ... 4to. 1689.

Note.—This first Defence I have never seen; the title of the Second Defence is as under—

- A SECOND DEFENCE of the ~~P~~resent ~~G~~overnment under K. WILLIAM, and Q. MARY, Delivered in a SERMON, Preached October the 6th, 1689. At St. Swithin's in Worcester. Wherein is shewed, What God hath done already for us by their Majesties' Means, in respect of our Civil and Religious Rights. What present Supports he affords us under their conduct. The prospect we have of his future care and Protection; And the Invalidity of the Assertions of the REFUSERS of the New OATHS. By R. CLARIDGE, M.A., Rector of Peopleton, in the County of Worcester.

- A LOOKING-GLASS for Religious Princes: .or, the Character and Work of Josiah, Delivered in a SERMON upon 2 Kings XXIII. XXV. The Substance Whereof was Preached April 5, 1691, at Pershore in Worcestershire. Wherein They may see, That those Princes are only Eminent in the Sight of God, who are truly Religious, and turn to the Lord with all their Heart.—That there is more required of such Princes, than their own Private Assent and Consent to the True Religion.—That Religious Princes cannot be capable of a greater Honour in this World, than to be the Instruments of a Godly Reformation among their Subjects. And, That the Word of God alone is the Rule, to which both they and their People must attend in all Matters relating to Religion. By RICHARD CLARIDGE, M.A., and then Rector of Peopleton in the County of Worcester.

London, Printed for the Author, and are to be sold by William Marshall at the Bible in Newgate-street. 4to. 1691. 5

He quitted Peopleton in 1691, and then became a Baptist, and whilst in communion with them, he wrote and published,—

- A Preface to John Norcott's "Baptism discovered Plainly and faithfully," &c.—Written by Richard Claridge and subscribed by William Kiffin and him. ... 1694.
- An Appendix to the same. ... 1694.
- The Sandy Foundation of Infant-Baptism shaken: or, an answer to a Book, entituled, "Vindiciæ Fœderis." published by Mr. Mence.—And is a full answer to Mr. Michael Harrison of P.'s P. his Book, entituled, "Infant Baptism God's ordinance." Together with a Narrative, which contains the Foundation of the Controversie. By Hercules Collins, an unworthy Servant of Christ and his Church in Wapping.—To which is added a Letter by a Private hand, with a Preface and Appendix, containing, 1. The Pedigree of Infant's Habitual Faith. 2. The Judgment of Learned men against it. By Richard Claridge.

London, Printed for the Author, and are to be sold by Will. Marshall, at the Bible, in Newgate-street, and John Marshall at the Bible over against the Spread-Eagle-Inn, in Gracious-street near Cornhill. ... 4to. 1695.

N.B.—The part by R. C. consists of about 2 sheets.

- An Answer to Richard Allen's Essay, Vindication, and Appendix, wherein he endeavours to prove, that Singing of Psalms with conjoyn'd Voices is a Christian Duty. By R. C.

8vo. London, Printed in the Year, 1697.

Note.—This was written by RICH'D. CLARIDGE in 1696, and was afterwards published by the Baptists, with a Preface by WILLIAM RUSSEL. It is only part of R. C.'s work, only 8 sheets being struck off, as above, the remainder consisting of about 12 sheets not being published in consequence of some alteration in the copy, which the Baptists could not consent to.

In 1697 he joined Friends, and continued to reside in London till the year 1700, when he removed to Barking, in Essex, where he dwelt and kept a Boarding School for some years. In the beginning of the year 1706, he removed to Edmonton, in Middlesex; and after about a year's continuance there, removed to Tottenham, where he soon had a considerable school, till about the latter end of the year 1713, he left off keeping school, and removed to George's Court, near Hicks's Hall, London, (in the compass of PEARL Monthly Meeting) where he dwelt the remainder of his days. He was a noted Minister of the Gospel, and also Writer in the Society, as the following list of his works testifies.

- MERCY Covering the Judgment-seat, and Life and Light triumphing over Death and Darkness: in the Lord's Tender Visitation, and Wonderful Deliverance, of One that Sat in Darkness, and in the Region and Shadow of Death. *. * This Pamphlet was written in consequence of the Execution of Wm. Moles at Weston near Baldock in Hertfordshire, which took place on the 7th of 8th mo. 1817. The Criminal had been tried and convicted at the Assizes held at Hertford on the 24th of 7th mo., 1817, on the charge of maliciously setting Fire to a stack of Wheat belonging to — Farr, of Weston, on the evening of the 12th of 4th month last, by which most of the farm buildings and dwelling houses of that and the adjoining farm were destroyed in a few minutes. The novelty of such a scene in these parts drew together a large concourse of spectators—the poor man acknowledged his guilt, and died penitent. Aged about 21 years.—From a MS. note by Wm. Lucas, of Hitchin.

He died at Bridgwater, 6th month, 16th, 1850, at the advanced age of 91, and was interred in the Friends' burying-ground there.

CLARK, John, son of the above THOMAS CLARK, was born at Grenton, Somerset, 11th mo. 21st, 1785, and received his education at Compton School, under THOMAS THOMPSON. He early exhibited a good deal of inventive genius, and a taste for philosophical and antiquarian pursuits: and, although engaged for many years in business at Bridgwater, his mind was always much occupied with inventions designed to promote the welfare of mankind. Amongst other original ideas he suggested a Fire-escape, and a Grate for economizing the consumption of fuel; and he even projected an Electric Telegraph long before the establishment of Railways. He also took out a Patent for the construction of Air Beds and Cushions, by the use of a solution of India Rubber; and this Patent he disposed of to the famous Mackintosh.

Much attention was also devoted by him to devising an apparatus, worked by keys like a Piano, by means of which the blind could print messages or letters.

Like many other inventors, he reaped but little pecuniary reward. The versatility of his mind was also exemplified by the construction of a machine that actually composed Latin verses.

In his ideas on political economy and other important subjects, he was much in advance of his day.

His kindness of disposition led him to devise schemes for alleviating the sufferings of the brute creation. The preservation of many of the relics of Glastonbury Abbey was due to his watchfulness and care.

Quit the dim path, if search of cloudless light
Hath led thy wanderings back to ages past ;
Frail are the frozen flowers, and thinly cast
O'er the cold regions of monastic night.
Yet in their caverns' dark recesses, dwells
The long lost spirit of forgotten times ;
Whose voice, prophetic, reached to distant climes,
And rul'd the nations from his witch'd cells.
That voice is hush'd—but still in fancy's ear,
Its first unmeasured melodies resound ;
Blending with terrors wild, and legends drear,
The charmed minstrelsy of mystic sound
That rous'd, embodied to the eye of fear,
Th' unearthly 'habitants of faery ground.

CROESE, Gerard, the author of the following work was not a Friend; but as the English translation has some matter inserted in it (see the note below) furnished by Friends, in order to clear themselves from misrepresentations which this history contains, it seems to claim a notice here. Wm.
 Sewel says, "That the author got the chief contents thereof from me, yet that relation which he gives of the rise and progress of the Quakers, is very imperfect and defective; and that he presumed to relate things of which he had no true knowledge."—See Wm. Sewel's History (Preface.)

ments, Sufferings, Tryals, Speeches, and Letters of all the most eminent Quakers, both Men and Women; from the first rise of that Sect, down to this present Time. Collected from Manuscripts, &c., A Work never attempted before in English. Being written originally in Latin by Gerard Croese. To which is added, a Letter writ by George Keith, and sent by him to the Author of this Book. Containing a Vindication of himself, and Several Remarks on this History.

London, Printed for John Dunton, at the Raven in Jewen-Street. ... 8vo. 1696. 19½

Note.—On its coming to the knowledge of Friends that this History was to be translated into English, a committee was appointed to communicate with the printer on the subject. The following minutes of the Morning Meeting will give a clear understanding on the subject :—

1695. 12mo. 17.—Gerard Croese's History of the Quakers in Latin being about to be translated here, some things not true and others reflection—Dunton the Printer is willing to print an appendix containing any false acct.—Joseph Wyeth to undertake it—the Latin History sent to T. Ellwood and J. Pennington for their perusal and animadversions—John Field to be spoken unto also.

John Field brought a letter from Jno. Roeloffs Vanderwerf with their (the Friends of Holland) answer or remarks—unto the History of the Quakers, intend to send the errata by next post.

1696. 3 mo. 18.—The History of Quakers is translated from latin into English 1st Book to page 112.—2nd book to page 104. T. Ellwood is written to enquiring what he thinks of it so far and of what Friends have written and what is yet needful to be done by Friends here—whether to translate what friends in Holland have sent and add more and print? and if an advertisement at the end of the English be not needful.

3 mo. 25.—Having an acct. that a letter of Geo. Keith's is to be added unto the History of the Quakers (sent to the author in Latin) now printing in English the friends formerly named are desired to add a few introductory lines and to get printed, "The Ancient Christian Testimony renewed and the book of Christian Doctrine if it can also at the end of the said history.

4 mo. 8.—The History of the Quakers translated into English is now published with some additions to clear Friends and truth that remarks thereon are already made public and more intended and also the ancient Testimony of Friends in Pennsylvania on those several points of doctrine reflected upon by Geo. Keith, also printed and bound with the History after Geo. Keith's letter therein printed.

Following are the additions to this :—

Appendix: Containing the True Copy of a Latine Letter

Writ by George Keith, and sent by him to Gerard Croese, Translated out of his Latine Manuscript into English.

- Some Annotations upon diverse things related in the Latine Book, called, The Quakerian History of Gerard Croese, concerning me G. K. and some opinions (or Sentiments) not well by him alledged to be mine, with an Emendation and Correction of those things which the Author (through mistake) hath unduely fixed on me: As also concerning some other things respecting some sentiments of many called Quakers; and our late Controversies in matters of Faith and Religion.
 - Something Added in Behalf of the People called Quakers, both with respect to the Historian, and also G. Keith. ... 6 pages
 - Our Antient Testimony renewed concerning our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, the Holy Scriptures, and the Resurrection.—Given forth by a Meeting of Publick Friends, and Others, at Philadelphia in Pensylvania, 1695.—Signed by Griffith Owen, John Wilsford, and others. ... 10 pages
 - (See THOS. ELLWOOD.)—Some Remarks on Gerard Croese's "General History," in Latin. ... [about 1696.]
- In MANUSCRIPT, never published.
- (See WM. CROUCH.)—Posthuma Christiana, 8vo. 1712, Containing, "A Collection of the Observations and Remarks of Gerard Croese, concerning Quakers."
 - (See FRANCIS BUGG.)—A Brief History of the Rise, Growth, &c. of Quakerism,—Containing also, a modest correction of the General History of the Quakers; wrote in Holland by Gerard Croese. ... 8vo. 1697 -
 - (See FRANCIS BUGG.)—The Picture of Quakerism, &c. 8vo. 1697 -

Nota.—Francis Bugg professes to correct this History of Gerard Croese. I have not examined his work, but if we may judge from the general character of his writings I should say he only makes bad worse. Thomas Ellwood and Wm. Crouch were both valuable Friends, and any remarks from their pens may be depended on.

JOHN, John, of Bedfordshire, was convinced of the principles of Friends by the preaching of George Fox in the year 1654, and at that time was a Justice of the Peace, but soon after was left out of the Commission. He appears to have been highly esteemed, and in the year 1653 was recommended as a fit and proper person for member of Parliament. See "A Letter from the People of Bedfordshire to Oliver Cromwell, dated May 13th, 1653," published in "Original Letters and Papers of State, &c.," by John Nicholls, jun., 1743; and amongst the names of those people is to be found that of John Bunyan. He was a very valuable and useful member as well as Minister in the Society, and very zealous in upholding its principles, as will be seen by the following list of his writings:—

ESSAYS BY DR. DALTON,

Published in the Memoirs of the Literary and Philosophical Society, Manchester, and which it is believed have not been issued in a separate form.

Vol. 5. Part 1.—Extraordinary facts relating to the vision of colours.

Vol. 1. Second Series.—Experimental inquiry into the proportions of the several gases or elastic fluids constituting the atmosphere.

On the tendency of elastic fluids to diffusion through each other.

On the absorption of gases, by water and other liquids.

Remarks on Mr. Gough's two essays on the doctrine of mixed gases; and on Professor Schmidt's experiments on the expansion of dry and moist air by heat.

Vol. 2.—On respiration and animal heat.

Vol. 3.—Experiments and observations on phosphoric acid, and on the salts denominated phosphates.

Experiments and observations on the combinations of carbonic acid and ammonia.

Remarks tending to facilitate the analysis of spring and mineral waters.

Memoir on sulphuric ether.

Observations on the barometer, thermometer, and rain at Manchester, from 1794 to 1818, inclusive.

Vol. 4.—On oil, and on the gases obtained from it by heat.

Observations in meteorology, particularly with regard to the dew point or quantity of vapour in the atmosphere; made on the mountains in the North of England.

On the saline impregnation of the rain which fell during the late storm, Dec. 5th, 1822, with an appendix to the same.

On the nature and properties of indigo, with directions for the valuation of different samples.

Vol. 5.—Observations on the nature of the rock strata of Manchester. On the quantity of rain, &c., at Geneva, and at Great St. Bernard, for a series of years.

, John,—continued.

On the mechanical effects of atmospheric pressure on the animal frame.

On the quantity and chemical elements of food compared with the secretions in a healthy person ; founded on a series of experiments.

Vol. 6.—Observations on the barometer, thermometer, and rain, at Manchester, from the year 1794 to 1840 inclusive.

Observations on the various accounts of the luminous arch or meteor accompanying the aurora borealis of Nov. 3, 1834.

In Nicholson's Philosophical Journal.

Vol. 5. (4to.)—On the constitution of mixed elastic fluids, and the atmosphere, 1801.

Vol. 8. (8vo.)—On the theory of mixed gases.

Vol. 5.—On the Zero of temperature.

Vol. 6.—Correction of a mistake in Dr. Kirwan's Essay on the state of vapour in the atmosphere.

Vol. 8.—On chemical affinity as applied to atmospheric air.

Vol. 9.—Observations on Mr. Gough's strictures on the theory of mixed gases.

Vol. 10.—Facts tending to decide at what point of temperature water possesses the greatest density.

Vol. 12.—Remarks on Count Rumford's experiments on the maximum density of water.

Vols. 13 and 14.—On the maximum density of water in reference to Dr. Hope's experiments.

Vol. 28.—On the signification of the word "particle" as used by chemists.

Vol. 29.—Observations on Dr. Bostock's review of the atomic principles of chemistry.

In Dr. Thomson's Annals of Philosophy.

Vols. 1 and 2.—On oxymuriate of lime, 1813.

Vol. 3.—Remarks on the essay of Dr. Berzelius on the cause of chemical proportions.

Vol. 7.—Vindication of the theory of the absorption of gases by water, against the conclusions of M. de Saussure.

Vols. 9 and 10.—On the chemical compounds of azote and oxygen, and on ammonia.

Vol. 11.—On phosphuretted hydrogen.

Vol. 12.—On the combustion of alcohol, by the lamp without flame.

On the Vis Viva.

In Phillips' Annals of Philosophy.

Vol. 10. New Series.—On the analysis of atmospheric air by hydrogen.

LL, Jonas, of Stepney, London, was a Soldier in the Army and was frequently called The Quaking Soldier. At what period he joined the Society, I am unable to learn ; but suppose it must have been about the year 1657, or 1658. He wrote the two first-mentioned books prior to that time, and the latter I should say after he united himself with Friends.

— A VOYCE from the TEMPLE. The Word of God, the Covenant of Light, doth discover and declare the Anabaptist so called, to be in the reprobate state, and one of those many heads and horns of the Beast which are sprung out of the Beast, since the time of the coming in of the Apostacie, when the Churches backslided and became Apostated, from the true Faith. And these have got the true Prophets words, but are out of the true Prophets life; and these have got Christs words, and the Apostles; and for matter of the outward forme, as Dipping and breaking of bread; but are open opposers of the Light and Spirit by which the Apostles were led and guided, and so appears to the least child of Light: not to have the Spirit but to be the Naturall men, that discerneth not the things of the Spirit of God. Written and published to goe abroad in the Army among those that are called Anabaptists: By one who despiseth no man's Person, but is a witness for God against the deceit of those, which say, they are Saints and are not; but doe lye and are manifest to the least Child of Light, to be the Synagogue of Sathan. DRUMMOND, May, of Edinburgh, was convinced of the Principles of Friends at a Yearly Meeting held there, when her Brother was Lord Provost, about the year 1731, a short time after she was called to the ministry. She was a fluent speaker and became very popular. Thomas Chalkley, in speaking of her says, (see his Journal, page 279, London edition, 1751.)

 “While I was in and about London, (in the year 1735) I was at eighteen meetings in that great City, at two of which I was with May Drummond, a virtuous young Woman, who hath a good Gift in the Ministry, and had a gracious Opportunity of declaring her Convincement, to our noble Queen Caroline (our great King George's royal Consort.) The kind Treatment, and good Reception, she had with the Queen, spread so in City and Country, that many Thousands flocked to hear her, and more of the Gentry and Nobility, than ever was known before, to our Meetings. I had some private Conversation with her, which put me in mind of the Apostle's Exhortation, where he adviseth the primitive Christians, that their words be few and savoury, and that they should be seasoned with Grace, for this Great Reason, that they might administer Grace to the Hearers; and truly I thought there was the Influence of Grace in her Conduct and Conversation, whom I pray God to preserve in Christ to the end.”

— Letter to Samuel and Susanna Fothergill on the death of their Father. (See Samuel Fothergill's Letters, page 106, 1st edition, 1843.) [With a short account of her, by Geo. Crosfield.]

Written at Bristol, 11th mo., 1744.

About the year 1764, for some cause she was silenced as a Minister, as will appear by the following extract from an old document:—May Drummond, was “under dealing by Edinburgh Meeting about 12th mo., 1764. Is written to by Wm. Miller 2nd mo. 1765, on behalf of Edinburgh Meeting (vide letter) and requested to cease preaching. But continues and is again written to 3rd mo. 1765, which has the desired effect for a time; she staying away from meeting for 6 months. She visits London and appears in the ministry to the great burden of Friends. The Morning Meeting writes in consequence to Edinburgh Meeting enquiring anent [or concerning] her 4th mo., 1766. ¶For Letter and reply, vide 183.”

She afterwards published,—To the Meeting assembled in the Chamber at Gracechurch-street, on a second Day Morning the 11th of the 5th Month, 1766. With,—M. D.'s answer to their last advice the 19th of 6th month, 1766.

for our-selves, on religious subjects. No Atheism.

8vo. No Printer's name or place. 1797.

Note.—On the back of the Title to this piece is this curious advertisement :—"From my not having for some time past frequented the meeting of the Religious Society I was born and educated amongst, or any other place of public worship, and from my having, on all occasions, spoken very freely against Superstition and Priestcraft, Persecution, Tithes, &c., I apprehend it has been maliciously represented by some, and believed by others, that I must be either an Atheist or a Deist. And I shall here, as a general answer, repeat the reply I made when accused on this subject, viz. 'That I had a church in my own bosom, which at present, I was perfectly satisfied with ; and that there was also a Parson in the pulpit, who preached sound doctrine, without demanding any Tithes.' But I think it necessary, in my own justification, to publish my Religious Principles : and which I can't do better than by extracts from the preface to a 'General History of the Religion of all Nations in the World,' which I have made some progress in collecting material for, and which continues, at times, to be the amusement of my leisure hours.

R, Samuel, was the Son of John Fisher, a Shopkeeper of Northampton; he had his education at Oxford University, and entering into holy orders, was made priest of Lydd, in Kent; he afterwards resigned that living, and joined himself with the Baptists, and became a Minister among them, and during that time he wrote the following book:

BABY-BAPTISM meer BABISM, or an ANSWER TO NOBODY in Five Words, to Everybody who finds himself concerned in it.

1. ANTI-DIABOLISM or the true Account of a dispute at Ashford proved a true counterfeit. 2. ANTI-BABISM or the Babish disputings of the Priests for Baby-Baptism disproved. 3. ANTI-RANTISM or Christ'ndome unchrist'nd. 4. ANTI-RANTERISM or Christ'ndome newchrist'nd. 5. ANTI-SACERDOTISM the deep dotage of the D D Divines discovered, or the Antichristian C C Clergy cleared to be that themselves, which they have ever charged Christ's clergy to be. By Samuel Fisher an unworthy servant of Jesus Christ and his poor P P Priest-belyed Church and People.

Christianismus Redivivus, Christ'ndom both un-christ'ned and new-christ'ned; or, that good old way of Dipping and in-churching of men and women after faith and repentance profess'd, commonly (but not properly) called Anabaptism, vindicated by that two-edged Sword of the Spirit (the Word of God) from all kind of calumnies that are cast upon it, and cavils that are made against it, by the Rantizers on the one hand, and the Ranters on the other, and proved to be the only true Baptism, and way of Christ. Folio. London, 1655.

Baptism before, or after Faith and Repentance, largely discussed; not only in publick disputations, managed by many Ministers before thousands of people, but also Mr. Baxter, Dr. Holms, Dr. Featley, Mr. Marshall, Mr. Cook, Mr. Cotten, and many others, their Arguments for and against, truly controverted. Folio. London, 1669.

1694.—27th of the 6th month.

"A Letter dated the 18th of the 6th month, 1694, from several Friends in Derbyshire, that they think the Relation [of Ellen Fretwell's] in George Fox's Journal, p. 309, should be left out, for they suspect the verity of part of the relation and request it may be left out."

"This meeting agrees that none of George Fox's Journals be exposed until further directions from them touching this matter, and that Thomas Lower signify that to the sellers of them."

1694.—24th of the 7th month.

"Friends considering the inconvenience of having a doubt upon any part of the Book, concluded that the leaf 309, 310, be reprinted with those lines and words left out which are underscored, and then the said new printed leaves sent down to every county to a couple of discreet faithful Friends to take out the old leaves and put in the new as carefully and neatly as they can; because of some suspicion in Derbyshire about part of an information in p. 309: Theodor Eccleston to prepare a Letter to go down with them."

N.B.—William Mead refused lending any assistance in this matter.

These Minutes account for the variation to be found in the Journal at page 309, as some Friends objected to have their copies altered, and the leaf was not inserted.

The names of the Friends to whom this matter was committed were Wm. Bingley, John Bowater, Saml. Waldenfield, John Butcher, John Field, Francis Stamper, Robert Langford, and Daniel Monroe.

The Life of Lady GUION, written by herself in French, now abridged, and translated [by JAMES GOUGH] into English, Exhibiting her eminent Piety, Charity, Meekness, Resignation, Fortitude and Stability; her Labours, Travels, Sufferings and Services, for the Conversion of Souls to God; and her great Success, in some Places, in that best of all Employments on the Earth. To which are added, remarkable accounts of the Lives of worthy persons, whose Memories were dear to Lady GUION. (In 2 vols.)

Bristol: Printed by S. Farley, in Castle-Green. 8vo. 1772. 32½

"At Bristol, I had an opportunity of conversing with my friend James Gough, a Minister of the Gospel amongst the Quakers, who has lately translated from the French the Life of LADY GUION: whose life and writings, are replete with the most divine favour, and deepest experience in Christian matters, that I ever met with: I have in French, near forty pocket volumes of her writing, and esteem them a treasure.

"I think it much to the praise of this honest Quaker, that he has set so good an example of an open catholic spirit, in not thinking the worse of so valuable a woman, tho' she was of the Roman Catholic community. Oh, that all good Christians of every denomination may be delivered more and more from a narrow, partial, bigoted, party spirit! and own and love the TRUTH, wherever they meet with it. When I say, the Truth—I mean the NEW CREATURE, which is neither Circumcision, nor Uncircumcision, but is a Spirit baptized into the true love of God and man, by the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghost; the sum and substance of all true religion."—From Cayley's Tour, &c., see page 94.

Query, an Irish edition!—See Rutt's History, 4to edition, page 280, where it says, "The Book called the Spirit of the Martyrs revived, being an abridgement of the History of the Martyrs was now ordered to be printed, for the benefit of Youth and others." A.D. 1718.

Note.—There are copies of this work extant, not published by Friends, with this false Title, viz.

— The Good Spirit of the Martyrs revived: Being a Collection of the most Remarkable Passages, and Living Testimonies of the True Church of God, and her Faithful Martyrs in all the Ages of the World.—Selected and compiled by G. B., E. S., and H. H. The 2nd edition, the first being stifled in King James 2nd's Reign. Also, a Christian Plea against Persecution for the cause of conscience, grounded upon Scripture, Reason, Experience, and Testimonies of Princes and Learned Authors.

London: Printed for Joseph Marshall, at the Bible, in Newgate Street. ... 4to. 1718. 50

Query, who are G. B., E. S., and H. H.? I think these initials are only fictitious. The work was not stifled, but widely circulated; and on examination this proves to be the old edition of 1683. "Printed for T. H.," with little, if any alteration, except taking away the old Title and replacing it with this new one, making some variations in the Preface and suppressing the author's name, at the end and substituting the word "Farewell," and altering the words at the head of the verses following the Preface, "the author to the book itself," and substituting, "Done by one of the Reverend authors," in reference to which Morris Birkbeck says, in a note he has written in a copy formerly belonging to him, "These verses are copied almost verbatim from Ellis Hooke, as well as the Preface nearly—!!! Probably those compilers considered him a Reverend old man. But I fear these Reverend authors, 'as they stile themselves,' have lacked Honesty, Modesty, and Truth, or they could not have altered and vended such a bare-faced Lie!"

- A COLLECTION of the several BOOKS and Writings of that Faithful servant of God, Richard Hubberthorn, who finished his Testimony (being a Prisoner in Newgate for the Truth's sake) the 17th of the 6th Month, 1662.

"And I heard a voice from Heaven, saying, Blessed are the dead which hereafter dye in the Lord; even so saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours, but their works shall follow them."—

R. Hubberthorn was violently haled from a Meeting for Worship in London, in the year 1662, and brought before Alderman Richard Brown, who, with his own hands, pulled down his hat upon his head with such violence that he brought his head near to the ground, and then committed him to Newgate, where, being thronged amongst others, he soon grew sick; and his sickness so increased that he had only been seven weeks in prison when he was taken away by death. He was visited two days before his decease by some of his friends, to whom he said—"That there was no need to dispute matters, for he knew the ground of his salvation, and was satisfied forever in his peace with the Lord." He also said, "That which hath wrought my salvation, I well know, and have grounded satisfaction in it." In this frame of mind he departed this life, and so entered with happiness into eternity.
